

STATED HIS CASE TO MISSOURIANS

SPEECHES MADE BY ROOSEVELT IN ST. LOUIS.

Found Crowd Awaiting Him on Arrival and Large Audience Where He Spoke—Terms "Bolt Report as a Fake."

St. Louis, March 28.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt stated his case today to the people of Missouri. He made five speeches in this city and another in East St. Louis, in which he explained his political doctrines. The streets were drenched with rain, but Col. Roosevelt found a crowd awaiting him at the station when he arrived, and a large audience which applauded him wherever he spoke.

The colonel put in a day which kept him busy from the time he stepped from his train before breakfast until well on toward midnight, when it was time for him to start for St. Paul. In addition to making six speeches, he attended a breakfast, a luncheon and a dinner, issued two statements, sent a message to the Illinois senate, covered a large part of the city in his jaunts by automobile, and between times found opportunity to go over the political situation with the leaders of the Roosevelt campaign in Missouri. The former president spoke briefly at the dinner given him by the Million Population club.

His Main Speech.
Col. Roosevelt's main speech was delivered tonight at the armory. He discussed "the right of the people to rule," and talked largely in the same vein as in his speech in New York last week upon the same topic. He protested against the theory, ascribed by him to President Taft, that the people should be ruled by "a representative part of the people." He said that "if the people could not rule themselves, they are not fit for free government and democracy is a sham."

"We welcome leadership and advice, of course," he said, "and are content to let experts do the expert business to which we assign them, without fussy interference from us. But the expert must understand that he is carrying out our general purpose and not substituting his own for it."

The speaker said that in Michigan, "the men who denied the people the right to vote at the primaries did it by passing the primary law in such a shape that it would only take effect after the latest date that primaries could be held to elect delegates to the June convention."

In his address at the luncheon given by the City club, Col. Roosevelt discussed the recall of judicial decisions. Six judges, four of them on the federal bench, were seated at the table with him.

"My proposition has been discussed by my opponents in a frame of mind which makes hysteria seem calm by comparison," he said. "Somebody told me that I was right on that proposed, but that I shouldn't have interjected it into a campaign. I said that I wasn't in the least interested in the campaign except as a means of getting justice. I'd a million times rather lose the campaign and get justice than win it without getting justice."

The second speech was made at the Merchants exchange where Col. Roosevelt discussed his proposal for the creation of an interstate business commission to deal with large corporations. Thence he went to the college, looked in on the House- hold show and spoke for two minutes. The remaining two speeches in the armory and in East St. Louis, were delivered in the evening.

Terms Bolt Report "Fake."
A report which appeared from several quarters to the effect that Col. Roosevelt had intimated that he might bolt the Chicago convention in case he should not be nominated, prompted him to issue two statements, in which he characterized the report as a "fake." His telegram to the Illinois senate was occasioned by an invitation to stop off at Springfield, Ill., and address that body. The colonel telegraphed his regrets. He said in his message that a presidential primary law, to consider which the legislature is in session, was an important step toward securing to the people the right to rule themselves. He assailed the politicians and the "crooked men of wealth," whom he said were opposing such measures.

Attends Conference.
Governor Hadley, Thomas K. Neidringhaus and several others who are active in Col. Roosevelt's campaign, attended the conference at which the political situation in Missouri was discussed.

Col. Roosevelt would make no comment upon the outlook in this state.

Col. Roosevelt received a tumultuous welcome when he reached the armory. All the seats were filled and hundreds of persons were standing.

Governor Hadley introduced the colonel. The first reference which Col. Roosevelt had made to the tariff in his present campaign was brought into tonight's speech.

"I have not spoken on the tariff," he said, "because I have little to add to what I said two years ago in upholding an honest fulfillment of what the republican platform contains."

INVASION OF ROUGHS FEARED

POLICE AND MILITARY AT ROCK ISLAND ALARMED.

One Hundred Rough Characters Leave Muscatine, Iowa, and Are Expected to Arrive in Rock Island This Morning.

Rock Island, Ill., March 28.—Despite expectations of a conclusion of the troubles here, police and military were alarmed to night by reports that the city would be invaded by a crowd of roughs from Muscatine, Iowa, to-morrow morning at the time the coroner has set for the inquest over the victim of Tuesday night's riot. This information was contained in the following dispatch received by publishers of local newspapers from what they consider a reliable source in Muscatine:

"Fully 100 rough characters from Muscatine left for Rock Island to help raise trouble up there. Over 100 striking socialists button workers from this town are up there now and will be in it all the way through. We have had assassinations of the police here, attempts to dynamite buildings, assaults and riots till it is a night mare. The troops were here twice. I saw several of our dynamite men leave for Rock Island this morning."

Coroner Rose will hold the inquest to-morrow at the sheriff's office. Advice from the hospital to night state that Swingle, one of the riot victims, was dying.

Orders Special Jury.
Judge Frank Ramsey, of the county court to day ordered a special grand jury to take up charges of inciting to riot, which have been made against about thirty individuals, among whom are a number of local politicians. It is planned to have sessions begin to-morrow. Adjutant General Frank Dickson, who is directing the sixth regiment in enforcing order, instituted a severe military regime to day, despite protests of merchants, who complained that business was being injured. Several men arrested as vagrants last night were sentenced to more than a month, each, at hard labor in the county jail.

Many Arrests Made.
Mayor Schriver late to night caused the arrest of 200 habitués of Rock Island's tenderloin. Women, singers and proprietors in cafes and houses of questionable character were taken to the police station in patrol wagons and automobiles. To all who were willing to go, railroad tickets to Chicago and St. Louis were given. The others went to the county jail as vagrants.

SECRETARY KNOWN.
Santo Domingo, March 28.—Secretary Knox and party returned aboard the Cruiser Washington this evening. The cruiser later proceeded to Kingston, Jamaica.

DAM UNINJURED

Powder House Was Building Swept Away by Flood at Keokuk Two Days Ago.

Keokuk, Ia., March 28.—Through error in transmission and interpretation of "skeletonized" telegraphic dispatches from its Keokuk correspondent, which made the word "powder" read "power," The Associated Press on March 24 and 25, in describing the flood conditions in this vicinity, gave the impression that the power house of the Mississippi Power company had been swept away by the breaking up of the ice in the river, and the great dam injured. The so-called "powder house" which was swept away was a small frame structure used for the storage of explosives. The entire loss is said not to have exceeded $30. The dam was uninjured and trivial leak in one of the cofferdams was easily stopped without serious damage of any kind.

To persons familiar with the construction of the power house the statement that it had been swept away was self-evidently absurd. It is 1700 feet long, 123 feet wide, nearly 40 feet above the bed of the river, and its solid concrete construction extends some 26 feet into bed rock.

Boy Dies of Wound.

Raymond Swingle, 18 years old, who was wounded Tuesday night when the police fired on the mob that had attacked the police station, died to night.

AMERICAN WON.

Liverpool, March 28.—Harry Lewis, the American welterweight, won on points from Harry Mansfield of London in twenty rounds here to night.

on that subject."

The speaker repeated the charges which he made yesterday that improper means were used to defeat the Roosevelt candidate at the primaries in New York.

"Here in Missouri," he said, "they have arranged for contesting delegates to the Chicago convention from districts where they could hardly procure a corporal's guard to make the contest. They can only hope that at Chicago they can repeat what was done in New York."

In speaking for control of the government for the people the colonel said that the alternative was government of the people by the bosses, of the meanest aristocracy that ever trod the earth, the aristocracy of naked and brutal wealth."

COMMITTEE FAVORS LORIMER

EXONERATED OF KNOWLEDGE OF LEGISLATIVE CORRUPTION.

Illinois Senator Won Vindication at Hands of Special Committee—Edward Hines Also Vindicated by Committee.

Washington, March 28.—Senator Lorimer of Illinois to day won an overwhelming vindication at the hands of the special committee of eight senators who have finished a second investigation of his election by the Illinois legislature in 1909.

Twice challenged and once acquitted, the committee by votes of five to three on all vital points, exonerated him of any knowledge of legislative corruption.

Edward Hines, the millionaire lumberman, referred to in the investigation as the man who put Lorimer over, also got a vindication by the committee. It had been charged that Hines raised a corruption fund of $100,000 to elect Lorimer to the senate. The majority repudiated that and adopted a resolution that evidence had shown that he did not raise or contribute any sum improperly.

The majority held that no new evidence had been adduced to justify a reversal of the senate's previous action in Senator Lorimer's favor, that there was no evidence of a jackpot in the Illinois general assembly in 1909 in connection with his election and that no corrupt practices had been shown by the investigation.

The case will be before the senate probably next week when a protracted debate will begin. Neither side has made a thorough canvass of the situation. Republican leaders point out that there will be about 27 new senators to vote on the case, in addition to those who have already voted on substantially the same charges.

Basis of Action.
The basis of the committee's action was the plea raised by Lorimer's counsel that the previous action of the senate bars reconsideration.

The majority report on the main proposition will be signed by Senators Dillingham, Gamble, Fletcher, Johnston and Jones, and the minority by Senators Kenyon, Kern and Lea.

Senator Jones was against Senator Lorimer on the first investigation. To day he reversed his position and presented three of the leading resolutions to exonerate Lorimer.

The contention of the minority members will be that the senate passed upon the question of the former adjudication when it ordered the present investigation and that if res adjudicata were to prevail it should have been before a second exhaustive investigation at a cost of $50,000 was begun. They contend that the new investigation was ordered largely because the former committee had not made a full investigation and the country demanded all the facts.

Their view is that the new investigation has developed much pertinent to Lorimer's election, which the old failed to discover, that the res adjudicata plea is a subterfuge to before the real issue.

In Session Three Hours.
The committee was in session almost three hours. Senator Jones offered a resolution that nothing had been developed by the investigation to justify a reversal of the senate's judgment holding valid the election of Lorimer as a United States senator. This was carried five to three, Senators Dillingham, Gamble, Jones, Johnston and Fletcher voting for it and Kenyon, Kern and Lea against it.

The adoption, however, was not until after several amendments had been voted upon. Senator Kern offered a substitute declaring "that in the opinion of the committee there were used and employed in the election of William Lorimer to the senate corrupt methods and practices." This substitute was lost by the same vote as was an amendment by Senator Lea to the Jones resolution, which would have added that the committee's investigation "shows that corrupt practices and methods were employed."

Mr. Lea followed this with a point of order that the Jones resolution was not responsive to the senate's resolution instructing the committee to investigate and report whether there were corrupt practices used. Chairman Dillingham overruled this. Senator Lea appealed from the chair and the appeal was tabled.

Senator Jones then offered, and the committee adopted by the same vote, a resolution declaring that there was no proof of the existence of any jackpot or other fund during the forty-sixth general assembly of Illinois in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer, other than the statements of White, Backe-meyer, Link and Holstlaw that they were paid money after the election, and none of them, except White, claimed to have received money for voting for Lorimer.

The committee also adopted a resolution by Senator Gamble declaring that this investigation had not shown that corrupt methods were used in Lorimer's election.

Senator Kern offered a resolution declaring that a fund was distributed in St. Louis to certain members of the Illinois legislature who had voted for Lorimer, and that Senator Broderick paid to Senator Holstlaw in Chicago money on two occasions. Senator Johnston immediately sought to amend this by adding that if any fund was distributed in any city it was not for votes

THURSDAY IN CONGRESS.

Lorimer committee, by vote of five to three, decided senate's vote sustaining Mr. Lorimer in last congress on substantially the same charges barred any further proceedings against him. President Taft's special messages on potash and the cotton tariff were read.

House.
Met at noon.

Resumed consideration of diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

Representative Lobeck, criticizing department of justice, introduced resolution calling upon attorney general for all correspondence and information in the investigation of the International Harvester company.

Stanley steel trust investigation committee continued its hearings.

LITTLE PROSPECT OF SETTLEMENT

Operators and Miners Still Far Apart Only Two More Days Remain.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—Little prospect of settling the bituminous coal miners' wage dispute to prevent a strike next Monday and the shutting down of practically all mines operated by union men was seen by the operators and the union officials to day, after they had conferred for hours and had failed to agree.

The lack of any steps toward an immediate settlement and the fact that only two days intervene before both the anthracite and bituminous wage scales expire, was said to make it almost certain that a widespread stoppage of production will begin next week for an uncertain period and a strike, involving about 500,000 men may ensue. The situation to night was:

The miners in the Anthracite fields of Pennsylvania will quit on Sunday night because their agreements with the operators expire at that time and no new agreement, even if it were being considered, could be put into effect in time to prevent the suspension. The union officials declare the suspension virtually will be a strike. The contracts of the miners in the bituminous regions also expire on Sunday midnight and probably they will suspend because they have no new agreement upon which to continue.

Officials of the union assert if a strike in both classes of mines is called it will cost a loss in pay to the miners of approximately $1,000,000 a day. A conference held in the hope that a strike or even a suspension in the bituminous mines might still be averted, was without result up to to night. The operators and miners of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois who are trying to fix a wage and working scale, not only for their own districts, but also as the basis for all other organized bituminous districts, the adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. To bring the situation to a crisis John Walker, president of the Illinois miners, proposed that the miners drop all their demands and make a new demand for an increase of five cents a ton for all coal mined. He explained his proposal did not come jointly from the miners, but he made it on his own responsibility "to avoid a prolonged industrial struggle."

The operators' part of the conference then called for an adjournment, which gave rise to reports among the miners that the operators were going to propose a compromise on the basis of five cents a ton increase over the present wage scale. The operators, after meeting at one, stated that they had decided to stand on the original position to continue the present scale for two years and nothing more. That is the ultimatum, they said, which will be delivered to the miners at the full conference to-morrow.

for Senator Lorimer, finally Senator Lea offered a substitute resolution which Senator Kern agreed to, declaring that a fund was distributed in St. Louis in June, 1909, by Lee O'Neill Browne and in July, 1909, by Robert E. Wilson, to certain members of the Illinois legislature. This was adopted 3 to 0, the pro-Lorimer senators not voting.

Hines Exonerated.
The committee adopted a resolution by Senator Jones declaring that it was not proven that Edward Hines received $100,000, or any other sum, or that he expended any sum, or contributed any sum, to aid in or securing the election of Lorimer to the senate, and that the evidence was that he did not raise, contribute to or expend any money improperly in the election of Senator Lorimer.

Kenyon, Kern and Lea did not vote on this.

The committee then adopted a resolution by Senator Johnston that the testimony failed to show that Senator Lorimer himself used any corrupt practices or means, or had any knowledge if such were used.

Sensors Kenyon, Kern and Lea did not vote. The others voted affirmatively.

Senator Lea ineffectively sought action on a resolution declaring that the investigation had produced additional proof of corrupt methods which warranted a reversal of the senate's action and that Senator Lorimer's election was not valid.

TESTIFIED IN HER OWN BEHALF

MISS TALBOT DENIES MISS MERCY'S CHARGES.

Is Positive She Said Nothing Which Might Be Construed to Reflect on Character of Discharged University Student.

Chicago, March 28.—Miss Marion Talbot, dean of women at the University of Chicago, who is sued for $100,000 damages for alleged slander by Miss Esther Mercy, a former pupil, took the stand in her own behalf in Judge Pomeroy's court to day.

Her testimony was a general denial of all the charges Miss Mercy had made against her. She was positive in her statement that she never had said anything which might be construed to reflect on Miss Mercy's character. But Dean Talbot did not deny that she had accused Miss Mercy of lying. Not only did she make this accusation, said the witness, but Miss Mercy admitted that it was true. Several witnesses who preceded Miss Talbot testified that Miss Mercy's reputation for veracity was bad. The reason given by university officials for her discharge was that she had been untruthful.

The $250 hat which Warren Reynolds, Miss Mercy's fiancé gave her, figured in Miss Talbot's testimony.

"She told me she wanted to fit herself to teach in the high schools," the witness said, telling of a conversation she had with Miss Mercy. "I then said to her, 'I understand you are married.' She replied she did not intend to get married. I said, 'What do you think that is right when you are accepting expensive presents from your fiancé?' She replied it was acceptable to him and was done with her mother's consent."

"I told Miss Mercy that in my opinion it was not proper for a student of the university in the position that she was to purchase a $100 coat and I did not think it proper for her to receive a $250 hat from her fiancé. She replied it was none of the business of the university, as her mother and brother knew she had received the hat."

Dean Talbot had not finished her testimony when court adjourned to night.

DEMOCRAT'S VIEW

Member of House Accused His Party of Insincerity in Matter of Economy.

Washington, March 28.—Representative Sisson of Mississippi, Democrat, startled his political colleagues in the house to day by charging that the Democratic party was not sincere in its protestation of economy. He sought to have stricken from the diplomatic appropriation bill an item of $10,000 for expenses of the American delegates to the next general assembly of the international institute of agriculture.

"I am tired of this prating of economy by the Democratic members of this house," he said, "and the absence of its practice. We preached economy when the Republicans were in power and we fail to practice it when we have the opportunity. I am criticizing an individual on this side of the chamber, but Democratic party will have face the criticism of the country and bear the brunt of that criticism."

Several Democrats criticized Mr. Sisson and his motion was lost.

The bill carrying $3,500,000 was passed.

STARVED OUT

One of Allen Clan Surrenders to Posse—Was Tired and Hungry.

Hillsville, Va., March 28.—Claude Swanson Allen came out of a thicket in the Blue Ridge Mountains to day and surrendered to the posses which has been hunting him for two weeks.

"I'm glad to get a chance to come in," he said. "I have not slept in a bed since the shooting and I'm hungry."

Complacent, he sat to night in the little brick jail, a stone's throw from the Carroll jail, where the Allen gang killed the judge, the prosecutor, the sheriff, a juror and a bystander.

Claude's capture gives renewed hope to the capture of the three remaining fugitives—Sidna Allen, his nephew Friel and Wesley Edwards.

Although Claude stoutly denied any knowledge of the hiding place of the three, it is believed he was attempting to carry some of his meagre stock of food to his relatives when he was taken. Young Allen probably will be taken tomorrow to the Itanoke jail, where some of his kinsfolk already are.

ROOSEVELT SENT REGRETS

CAME AFTER STATE SENATE HAD ADJOURNED.

Acknowledgement of Invitation to Address Members Reached Springfield After Senators Had Left for Home—Text of Message.

Springfield, Ill., March 28.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt's acknowledgement of the invitation to address the members of the Illinois senate reached the capital to day several hours after the senators had left for their homes, deeply chagrined at the former president's failure to advise them, while the senate was yet in session, of his inability to come to Springfield at this time.

The text of Col. Roosevelt's message, addressed to Senator Willet N. Cornwell, follows:

"Through you I desire to express to the State of Illinois my profound appreciation of the honor they have done me in asking me to address them. I greatly regret that my engagements render this a physical impossibility. You are engaged in passing a direct presidential primary act which shall allow the voters to express their own choice, both in the several district and in the state at large, as to whom they wish to have nominated for president. This is a very important step towards securing for the people the genuine right to rule themselves. The opponents to the measure include some well meaning men who do not yet understand the meaning of direct action by the people, not only in this but in many other ways and they also include the majority of those politicians who are not well meaning at all, but who, having made a trade of politics more than their business is interfering with whatever expedient gives greater importance to direct action by the people and therefore less importance to them when they either represent or misrepresent the people. In almost every state in this union one of the fundamental evils against which we have had to struggle is the corrupt alliance between the professional politician who wishes to make living or more than a living out of politics and the crooked man of wealth who wishes to secure from the crooked politician favors which the one has no right to give and the other has no right to receive. In its actual workings the old convention system at the present time in a number of states is being handled by one party or other of these unscrupulous and sinister alliance or by both parties thereto, so as to thwart the wishes of the people at large. Doubtless in the case of most of the politicians engaged in thus thwarting the wishes of the people, the motive is simply to retain their own control of the political machine."

"But there are doubtless also many cases where the politicians are acting in response to pressure from the great crooked financial interests. No other explanation will adequately explain some of the things that have been done within the last few weeks and even within the last few days by the political machines of several states insolently and defiantly thwarting the popular will and even upsetting the popular judgment when it has been duly and lawfully recorded."

MUNSEY SUMMONED.
Magazine Man to Be Questioned by Senate Committee.

Washington, March 28.—Frank A. Munsey has been summoned to appear to-morrow before the Stanley steel trust investigating committee. He will be interrogated about an article printed in a magazine relating to valuation of the property of the Tennessee Coal & Iron company. He will be asked by Chairman Stanley if he had not submitted his figures to E. H. Gary and others interested in the United States Steel corporation before the article was published.

Chairman Stanley to day introduced a resolution asking an additional appropriation of $4,000 to cover the expenses of the inquiry, which has been in progress for ten months. The original appropriation for the steel inquiry was $25,000. Later $3,000 was appropriated and now $4,000 is needed, the inquiry to close this week.

No report will come from the committee for some time.

FIGHT IN CHURCH

Alcopston, Ill., March 28.—Informing by his fiancé during prayer at the Free Methodist church last night, that a man had winked at her, John Slinker arose, walked across the room, and snote "Shorty" "Shorty Jones on the jaw. The fight that followed caused a panic in the house and caused a fine of $10 and costs for disturbing the congregations devotions."

PRIMARY BILL NOW IN DANGER

OPPOSITION COMES FROM A DEMOCRATIC SOURCE.

Sullivan Democrats in House Fear Passage of Present Bill May Bring Mayor Harrison Out as Presidential Candidate.

Springfield, Ill., March 28.—After being plotted safely through the senate, favorably acted upon by the house primary election committee and advanced to second reading in the lower house of the general assembly, the presidential preference primary bill encountered danger to day. It comes from a Democratic source.

According to the discussion going on here in Democratic circles, if the presidential primary becomes a law, friends of Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago will insist upon making him a primary candidate for president as a means to furthering the Hearst-Harrison fight in Cook county on Roger Sullivan. Being skeptical of such a move the Sullivan Democrats in the house are wary of casting their votes for the primary bill.

It is reported tonight that already upwards of a dozen Democrats have left the capital for their homes. With the aid of a portion of the Democratic members who were on hand today the primary bill is believed to have a good chance to obtain the two-thirds vote necessary to pass it with an emergency clause.

Sponsors for the primary bill on the Republican side express the fear tonight that possibility of Mayor Harrison becoming a candidate for president will cause the Sullivan Democrats to oppose the bill. On the other hand it is argued that the Sullivan Democrats are more vitally interested in the bill introduced by Representative D. J. Sullivan of Cook county, relative to the place where nominating petitions shall be filed, than they are in the preferential primary, and that accordingly they will be on hand to vote for the Sullivan bill at all hazards. This measure specifically provides for the filing of nominating petitions with the city and county clerks instead of with the election commissioners. With the two primary bills, it was sent to second reading in the house today.

The house primary elections committee passed out two primary bills with favorable recommendations. One of these is the bill which passed the senate. The other was introduced by Representative Chipfield. The senate bill is to be given the preference, the house measure merely being reported out as a matter of procedure in the event the senate bill fails to pass the house.

Their own leaders are divided in their ideas as to whether the primary bill shall be placed upon its passage immediately after midnight to-morrow night or at a regular session convened at the regular hour on Saturday.

Several Democratic caucuses have been held during the past 48 hours deciding the course to be pursued by the minority in the primary bill. It is placed upon its passage. Some of the Democrats are urging that the bill should be included on the primary ballot. Others want a statewide primary law, while the senate bill makes the congressional district the unit.

Modern Woodman Fight.

The Modern Woodmen of America who are fighting an increase in the rates of that fraternal body won the first round in the legislative fight when the house primary bill is placed upon its passage. Some of the Democrats are urging that the bill should be included on the primary ballot. Others want a statewide primary law, while the senate bill makes the congressional district the unit.

SHERMAN MADE ADDRESS TO VOTERS

Candidate for Senatorship Defines His Position on Various Questions in Midst of Hurried Speech Making Campaign.

Lawrence Y. Sherman arrived in Jacksonville at 12:05 Thursday over the Alton, made an address at 1:15 o'clock in the court house and left at 2:10 o'clock over the Wash for Quincy and intermediate points. Mr. Sherman, who is seeking the Republican nomination for the U. S. senatorship, traveled on a special train and was accompanied by Edward Clifford, Col. Milton J. Foreman and Malcolm McDowell of Chicago. Mr. Clifford is secretary of the Lawrence Y. Sherman Cook County club and has had charge of Mr. Sherman's down state trips.

At the court house Thursday, notwithstanding that the meeting was called for an early hour, a good audience was present. F. E. McDougall, representing the Young Men's Republican club of Jacksonville, presided and introduced first Edward Clifford, who made a sort of curtain raising speech. Mr. Clifford said of the cordials which he thought Judge Sherman's candidacy has been received in various down state cities and said that a very strong and influential club has been organized in Chicago to support the Sherman candidacy. The speaker said that sterling qualities of character had made Judge Sherman a man and leader respected alike for his ability and integrity, in private life and public office.

Judge Sherman was given a cordial greeting when he was introduced. He spoke only for a few minutes, but in a very simple and direct way which left no doubt as to his position on certain important questions. Judge Sherman said he was not attacking any one in his campaign; that he was not answering any of his critics because he thought answering unnecessary. He said that if the criticisms were untrue, if he still were nominated that his critics had been answered and that if he was not nominated that no answer was needed. Further Judge Sherman said: "If I receive the highest vote in the coming primary I will be a candidate for the senatorial position when the election comes. If I do not receive the highest vote I will not be a candidate and I will not in any way permit my name to be used as a possible candidate. As to my record it is written in the report of the house and the senate during the years I served therein. I cannot in a brief talk like this discuss political issues but I will be glad to come back at some future time and go over with you the reasons for the faith that I hold in the great principles of the Republican party. If I were now in the U. S. senate I would favor the election of senators by a direct vote of the people. I would favor a corrupt practice act and the keeping on the books of the inheritance tax law as it is now. This tax now brings to the state about $800,000 per year and I do not think it should pass under the control of the federal government. If chosen for office I will hold that my old master will be my constituents."

Judge Sherman served twelve years in the Illinois legislature, eight years of this period as presiding officer. He was speaker of the house from 1899 to 1903, and lieutenant governor and president of the senate from 1905 to 1909. During the time he was presiding officer of the house and senate he was present throughout the session and responsible for legislation. His supporters claim that no good legislation was suppressed and no bad legislation enacted during that time and that a general supervision and a detailed knowledge of measures marked his performance of official duties.

AGED WAVERLY RESIDENT TOOK LYE

Mrs. Martin Turner Ends Own Life Dependent on Account of Ill Health.

Word was received in this city Thursday announcing the death of Mrs. Martin Turner at the family home in Waverly from drinking lye.

For some time the lady has been a sufferer from an incurable ailment and it is thought this fact preyed on her mind to such an extent that she was at times not accountable for her actions.

Wednesday afternoon at about 2 o'clock Mrs. Al. Jones, a neighbor, went to call on the deceased and found her lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. A physician was hastily summoned and upon arrival found the lady was suffering from a draught of Lewis liquid lye. Every valuable means was used for the relief of the sufferer, but she failed to rally and after lingering until 5 o'clock on Thursday evening she passed away.

Mrs. Turner was born in Waverly, where she has resided all her life and at the time of her death was 55 years of age. She was united in marriage, 35 years since, to Martin Turner, who, together with three daughters and four sons survive her, all of them reside at the family home.

Coroner Skinner was notified and expected to go to Waverly this morning to hold an inquest. Funeral arrangements will be made known later.

We wish to express our appreciation for the kindness shown us by our neighbors and friends during the illness and death of our beloved husband, son and brother, also for the many beautiful flowers.

John Larsen, who formerly lived in Rock Island, has received from a relative in that city a copy of the paper which was the real cause of late recent Rock Island riots. The four pages of the paper are devoted almost exclusively to attacks on Mayor Starver. Across the first page in large type are the words "Scholar's Shame" and below it is given in all details the story of an alleged visit made by the mayor and two companions to the red light district of Peoria. The language is about the most suggestive possible and it is not at all surprising that the whole edition was suppressed.

WILL HOLD BIG MEETING HERE

Senator Lorimer and Len Small Are Scheduled For Jacksonville Visit
Tomorrow.

(Political Advertisement)

On another page will be found the announcement that Senator Lorimer and Len Small of Kankakee have arranged to visit Jacksonville Saturday, March 23. Together with the junior senator from Illinois and the "farmer" candidate for the Republican nomination for governor have been on special-making tours all over the state and this city is included in the itinerary for tomorrow. The visitors will arrive on a special train from Springfield at 11 o'clock and will make addresses at the court house at 11:15 o'clock. Their visit here will do much to serve to gather together a large audience of voters.

Mr. Small has visited nearly every county in state and everywhere held largest meetings of any candidate on any ticket. Wherever he has gone he has been greeted with the most enthusiastic crowds, and the majority of the down state counties have already lined up for the Kankakee farmer candidate.

Len Small is a typical Republican. He has been actively associated with the leaders of the Republican party for the past twenty-five years, and has had much to do with the history of the party in Illinois. Few men have enjoyed the confidence of the people to a greater degree. Years ago he was chosen a supervisor by his township, then circuit clerk by his county, and state senator by his district, and then state treasurer of Illinois by the biggest majority ever given any candidate for that office and later was appointed by the president to the responsible position of assistant United States treasurer.

Wherever Mr. Small has gone throughout the state he has received the unqualified support of the farmers, who are anxious to put a man of their own class in the governor's chair.

Mr. Small has lived all his life on his farm west of Kankakee and is engaged in extensive farming, stock-raising and other enterprises.

LORIMER AND SMALL COMING.

Announcement has been made that Senator Lorimer and Len Small candidates for the Republican nomination for governor, will visit Jacksonville tomorrow morning. They will arrive here from Springfield on a special train due at 11 o'clock and will make addresses in the circuit court room at 11:15. Sheriff Rogers received a message yesterday afternoon asking him to have the court room reserved for that hour. A large number of people will no doubt wish to see and hear both Senator Lorimer and Mr. Small.

SAW "TEDDY" IN ST. LOUIS.

F. J. Waddell returned yesterday from a business trip to St. Louis. While at the Union Station the train bearing Roosevelt arrived and Mr. Waddell was one of the number who saw the cordial welcome extended the former president. In speaking of the weather conditions Mr. Waddell said that he had never seen so many fields under water along the way and in some places it would be several weeks before the ground could be prepared for planting, and in the lowlands probably not at all. A peculiar vehicle for muddy roads attracted Mr. Waddell's attention, after the train had been several miles out of Jacksonville. A farmer had fixed up a rig, that resembled a toboggan more than anything else, and has two horses hitched to the conveyance, and it slipped over the ground like a sled.

TOOK POISON TO KILL SELF

Miss Hannah Sink Suicide at Quincy Hotel—Formerly Lived in Morgan County.

Word was received Wednesday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Sink at their home in Roadhouse, announcing the sudden death of their daughter, Miss Hannah Sink, in Quincy, where she was employed at the Hotel Newcomb.

The young lady was found in an unconscious condition in her room in the hotel and death soon followed. The body was taken to the Daugherty undertaking rooms, where an inquest was held by Coroner Haley. From the testimony adduced at the inquest it was learned that Miss Sink had taken carbolic acid with suicidal intent, and a verdict to that effect was returned.

Miss Sink was born in Murrayville, December 20, 1882, and at the time of her death she was in the 29th year of her age. It was learned that the young woman had been employed in Hannibal previous to going to Quincy last August. Her action came as a surprise to her intimate friends and no reason was assigned for it. The evening before her death she was out with a girl companion and on returning to the hotel she was cheerful and in a good humor. During the evening she suggested that she might leave in a few days for Chicago, but did not assign any reason for the statement.

The body was discovered by Miss Mamie Hinde, who is employed at the hotel, but who resides at her home in the city. On her arrival at 5:30 in the morning, to go on duty, Miss Hinde went to the room occupied by the unfortunate young woman and discovered her unconscious body dressed in a kimono and lying on the bed. A physician was summoned and upon arrival stated that carbolic acid had been the means used to destroy life. A bottle containing what was supposed to be the acid mentioned, was found in a pile on the floor near the bedside. The patient passed away in about half an hour, the physician remaining with her until the end.

The young woman leaves to mourn her untimely death, her parents and several brothers and sisters. One sister, Miss Margaret Sink, was employed in the hotel, where her sister died.

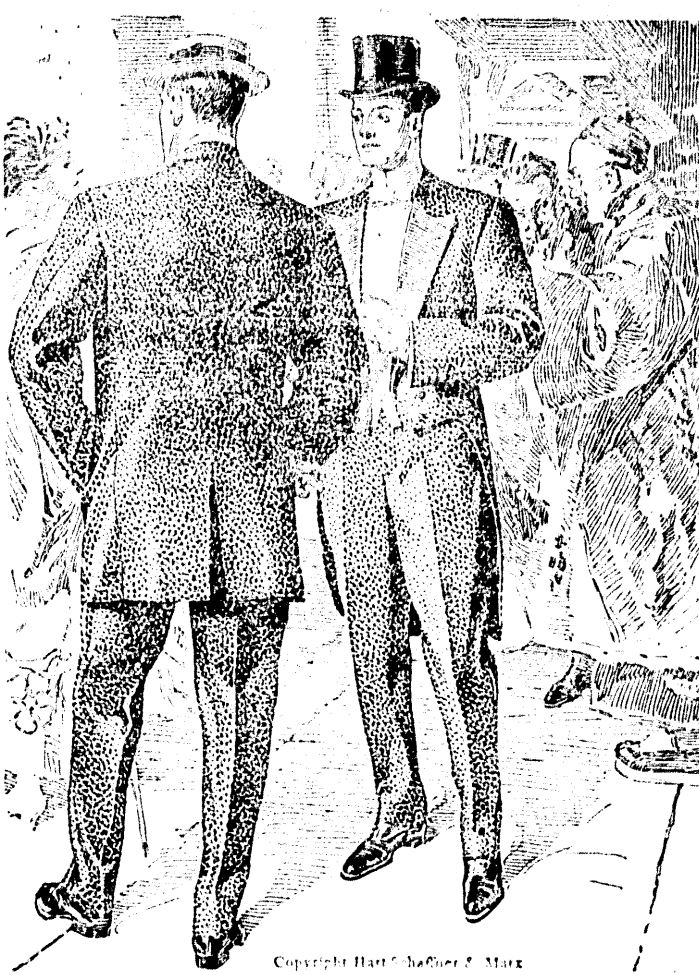

The present home of Mr. and Mrs. Sink is in Roadhouse and it is expected the funeral services will be held from their home on their arrival.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL

Kingsley.

John E. Kingsley, who has been ill with a complication of diseases for the past six weeks at Our Saviour's hospital, died Wednesday morning at 2:52 o'clock, at his late residence, 239 Webster avenue. Mr. Kingsley seemed to realize that he would not live very long so expressed a desire to be taken to his old home so that he might pass away there. His request was complied with and he was taken home Wednesday afternoon. Although the family realized he was a very sick man they did not think that the end was so near, so that his death came unexpected.

Mr. Kingsley was a farmer by occupation and was also engaged in stock buying and selling, being a good judge of livestock. He was a member of the Anti-Horse Thief association of Morgan county and at one time was a member of the Modern Woodmen and the Court of Honor. He also took quite an active part in politics and at the time of W. J. Bryan's first visit to Jacksonville he was chairman of the Morgan county Democratic central committee. Mr. Kingsley was possessed of a jovial disposition, and always ready to help his neighbors in times of trouble or distress. He was a member of the Church of Our Saviour. Mr. Kingsley's many friends will learn of his death with regret.

He was born in Jacksonville April 12, 1858, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kingsley, who came to America from the old country in 1850 and settled in Morgan county. Shortly after the birth of the son, the family moved to Woodson where they resided on a farm and where the son attended the public schools, and later became a student in the Normal university at Normal, Ill.

He married Miss Rosa Cain Nov. 15, 1882, and for a number of years the family has made Jacksonville their home. He is survived by his father, a widow and four children: Dr. A. C. Kingsley, Anna M., Arthur L., and Ruth G. Kingsley. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. J. N. Tilton of Chicago, Winnie at home and Mrs. J. C. Rook also of this community.

The funeral services will be conducted from the Church of Our Saviour Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be made in Calvary cemetery.

Skelton.

Alexander Skelton, of Litchfield, died at the Jacksonville state hospital, Wednesday night at 11:15 o'clock. He was born in West Va., in 1859, being 53 years of age. He was a laborer and had only been to the hospital a comparatively short time.

The remains were prepared for burial at the Williamson & Cody undertaking parlors and were sent over the 2:08 Burlington to Litchfield, where funeral services will be held and burial made.

Berry.

Mrs. Althea Berry died at 10 o'clock Wednesday night at her home in Waverly from the effects of a kidney trouble. She had been confined to her bed for about two weeks. She had reached the age of 75 years when called by death. Mrs. Berry was a consistent member of the Methodist church and had made many friends during her residence of ten years in Waverly.

She is survived by one son, George. Funeral arrangements had not been perfected at the time of this writing.

Curran.

The funeral services of John Curran were conducted Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, from the Church of Our Saviour, Rev. Father Crowe officiating. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery and the bearers were Patrick Quiley, Arthur Harmon, J. B. Wagner, Michael Shanahan. The services were attended by his sister, Mrs. Margaret Curran and a brother-in-law, J. B. Foley, both of Chicago.

SAMUEL HEATON DIES SUDDENLY

Well Known Resident of Morgan County Succumbs to Stroke of Apoplexy While on Road Home From Lynnville.

Samuel Heaton, a prominent resident of the Lynnville neighborhood, died suddenly Thursday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock from a stroke of apoplexy. He had been to Lynnville on business and had just got to the outskirts of the village, when he became suddenly ill and fell out of the rig. The horse stopped for a short time and finally went on to his residence, about two miles southwest of Lynnville. Mr. Cooper was on his way to the village and was the first one to find Mr. Heaton. He examined the body, which was almost cold. He notified the neighbors and Dr. H. A. Haskell was summoned but nothing could be done to restore life.

Mr. Heaton had not been a well man for some time. His illness dates back to the time of the Seattle exposition, three years ago. He had gone out west but became ill and had to be assisted home. Since that time his health has been gradually failing and for the past four or five weeks he has been under the doctor's care.

The passing away of Mr. Heaton removed one of the valued citizens of this community. He was possessed of a sincere heart, broad in his ideas and honorable in all dealings with his fellow men. He valued his friends highly, and ever held out a ready hand to assist even in every way possible. Almost his entire life had been spent on his farm, and his knowledge of stock raising and of everything about a farm was quite extensive. He was affiliated with the Masonic order of Lynnville and was a deacon in the Lynnville Christian church. He took a very active part in church work and gave liberally of his time and money toward the advancement of the church's interests. The community will miss the genial countenance, the warm handshake and the kindly words of Mr. Heaton and his death comes as a distinct loss to his many friends.

He was born in Morgan county in August, 1844, and would have been 68 years of age this summer. About 41 years ago he married Miss Maggie Campbell and she survives him, together with the following children: Dr. E. V. Heaton, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Mrs. Winnie Harris, Georgetown, Mo.; John, Henry, Roy, Benny, and Mrs. Harry Coultas, all of the Lynnville neighborhood. One child, James, died at the age of 5 years, and another son, Fred, died about fourteen years ago. He also leaves one half brother, William Gordon of Scott county, and three half-sisters, Mrs. Mary Carter, Mrs. S. G. Beeley, of Jacksonville and Mrs. Lillie Jones of Lynnville.

The funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock Sunday morning from the Lynnville Christian church, with interment in Diamond Grove cemetery.

These verses were written by the hostess and very clever. As a special gift Miss Brown received a fine linen table cloth with napkins to match. The evening was spent in music and singing and substantial refreshments added pleasure to the occasion.

Mrs. E. C. Coe entertained Thursday evening at her home in Edge Hill road, in honor of Mrs. Earl Stiltz, who is visiting with relatives here of Lemont, Ill., who is visiting with relatives here, and Miss Mayme McBride. PRESENTS CAUSE AT THE CAPITAL

Jesse Lowe is Making Protest Against Proposition Made by Sanitary Board.

Jesse Lowe of the firm of Christie & Lowe of Beardstown is now in Washington, D. C., in the interest of the Drainage and Levee District Association of Illinois. When the petition of the commissioners of the Chicago Sanitary district for an increased flow from the lake into the Illinois river was made known, the land owners in the various drainage districts contiguous to the river felt assured that if the flow in the river was increased before the taking out of the dams that there would result great damage in the districts by the overflow from the river, and a meeting of the directors of the association was held at the state capital. The matter was discussed in detail and Mr. Lowe, one of the directors and largest land owners in the association, was authorized to proceed to Washington, where an audience with Secretary of War Simson had been arranged for, that the matter from the point of view of the land owners might be presented to the secretary for his consideration and before he made a decision in regard to granting the petition of the sanitary commission.

The people along the Illinois valley are opposing the petition because it is foreseen that an additional flow will mean great damage to all farmers and land owners along the river. At the time the flow was fixed allowing 4,200 cubic feet of water per second it was ordered that certain of the federal dams be removed from the river. This, however, was never done and now with an increase of flow to 10,000 feet per second the result will mean the loss of thousands of dollars to owners of valley land. The opposition is made to the petition without reference to the question of not the dams are removed, but if the petition is ultimately granted it will undoubtedly mean the removal of all the dams, including the ones at Kankakee and Coppers creek and LaGrange.

A committee from various business associations in Canada went to Washington to enter protests against the increase in flow from the lake, claiming the shipping facilities would be interfered with at the lake ports in the Dominion where the lowering of the water would be quite noticeable. The secretary of war was to have rendered a decision in the matter on the 27th, but has extended the hearing until April 3, when it is expected he will give out his decision.

A telegram from Mr. Lowe was received yesterday stating that he expected to arrive at home on Saturday.

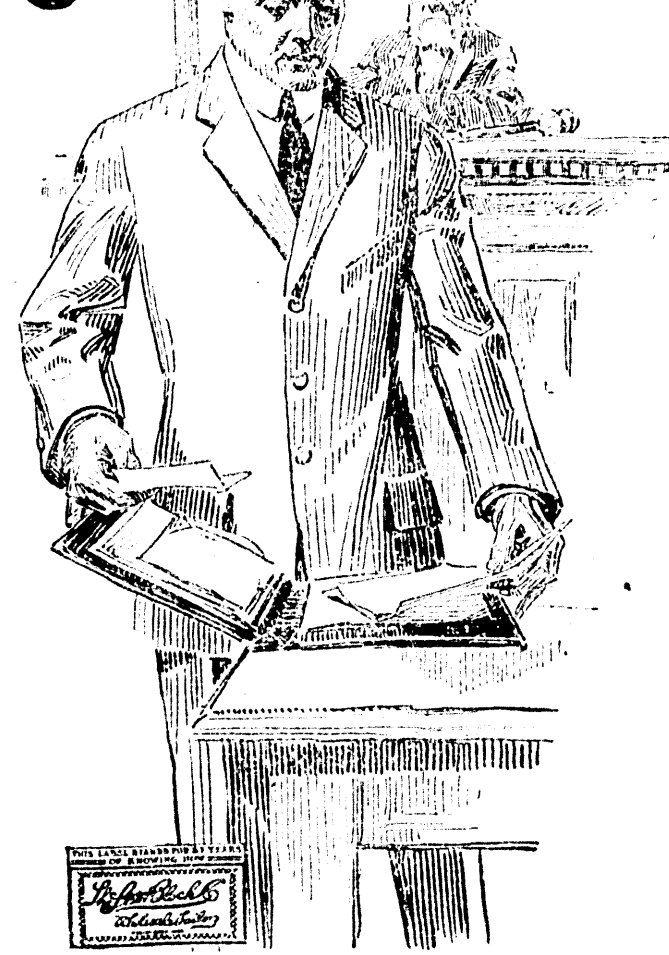

Miss Eleanor Thackeray of Beardstown was shopping in the city yesterday.

ROOSEVELT TELLS ABOUT CREED

FORMER PRESIDENT OUTLINES HIS POSITION IN BRIEF WAY

By Question and Answer Method Seeks to Throw Light on Meaning of Columbus Speech.

New York, March 28.—Theodore Roosevelt has an editorial article in the current issue of "The Outlook" entitled "A Short Political Creed."

It is in part as follows: A good friend of mine who has been asked many questions about the political philosophy which I endeavored to interpret and formulate in my Columbus speech has put those questions in the form of a short catechism; and in answering them I have endeavored to outline the philosophy.

What is the aim for which political Progressives are striving? The promotion of genuine popular government in America, the defense of human rights, and the establishment of social and industrial justice, so that every force in the community may be directed towards securing for the average man and average woman a higher and better and fuller life in the things of the body no less than those of the mind and soul.

Do you believe that the pursuit of this aim requires the adoption of new and radical principles?

No. I believe it requires a new and radical application of the old principles of justice and common honesty, which are as eternal as life itself.

Do you believe in a short ballot? No. I consider one of the most important methods to be adopted. By the "short ballot" I mean the principle of electing few men to important offices and making more administrative offices appointive. This is the method that is pursued in our Federal government.

Do you believe in direct primaries?

Yes. In the state the primary should be of the simplest form (consistent with preventing fraud) that will enable each individual voter to act directly on the nomination of elective officers; in the nation presidential primaries should be so framed that the voters may choose their delegates to the national conventions, and at the same time express their preference for nominees for the presidency.

Do you believe in the election of United States senators by the people?

I do. I think the people are just as competent to elect United States senators directly as they are to elect governors or representatives in congress or state legislatures.

Do you believe in the initiative or referendum?

Yes, under certain definite limitations. Action by the initiative or referendum ought not to be the normal way of legislation; I think the legislature should be given an entirely free hand. But I believe the people should have the power to reverse or supplement the work of the legislature, whenever it becomes necessary.

Do you believe in the recall?

I believe the people should be provided with the means of recalling or un-electing important elective administrative officers, to be used only when there is a widespread and genuine public feeling for such a recall among a majority of the voters.

Do you believe in the recall of judges?

I believe that the evils which have led to the very widespread proposal to apply the recall to judges are very real. I see no reason why the people, if they are competent to elect judges, are not also competent to un-elect them. I think the judiciary should be made clearly to understand that they represent justice for the whole people. Personally, and having in view the success of the Massachusetts system, I am at present inclined to believe that judges should be appointive.

Then we can apply the principle of the recall to the appointive power. In addition, I would have the appointive judges removable; and, in feeling our way to the proper solution, I would try having this done by a majority vote of the two houses of the legislature.

Do you believe in the "review of judicial decisions" by state courts, and what do you mean by it?

I do. What I mean may be fully expressed by the phrase, "The right of the people to review certain judicial decisions which nullify laws demanded by the people in the exercise of the police or general welfare power on the ground that these laws are unconstitutional." This would amount to a simpler method of constraining or amending the judicial interpretation of the constitution wherever such interpretation becomes clearly adverse to human rights.

I believe as I have said over and over again that when the highest court of a state differs from the legislature of that state on the question of the constitutionality of a law vitally affecting the conditions of life and labor among wage-earners, the people should have the right to determine in an election whether the constitution which they have framed was meant by them to permit such a law. This method cannot apply to questions as to the federal constitution; I have made this distinction clear in my Columbus speech. The jurisdiction of the United States supreme court concerning the federal constitution must remain supreme over the whole people. The constitutions of the separate states are in daily process of making by the people of those states, and I would therefore vest in the people of each state the final authority as to what their state constitution should be. I would not make the people the final judges in legal questions between individuals, but I would make the people the final umpire in such a conflict as that above outlined between the legislature and that judiciary in any given state.

As "Ed" Howe Sees Life

A man can accomplish nothing, except to get hungry, without effort. We no longer plow with a crooked stick, but politics is the same old crooked stick it always was. It is as slow now as it was in the days of the crooked stick plow.

About the most uninteresting thing is a man's social event.

Believing, foolish lies is almost as bad as telling them.

In a fist fight, the aggressor is always the larger man of the two; the little man fights in the hope that the crowd will pull the big man off before he can do much damage.

From ancient times, riot and reform have alternated, the rioting always lasting longer than the reform.

The farmers were meant when the term "workingman" was originally used; they are the real thing when it comes to working long hours at low pay. Yet they have never struck but twice: the Populist year, and the Granger year, and the town men soon settled both walk outs.

A good thing is not better than it really is; and to say that it is, is a brown lie.

The office of chief ruler was once offered to the highest bidder. The man who bid in the royal palace, and the right to occupy it, proposed to raise the purchase price by taxation.

One dissatisfied farmer asked the new king: "By what argument do you justify this action?" The new king pointed to the army, and replied: "My argument is twenty thousand swords." The argument prevailed; soldiers were the politicians in those days.

"I have tried all things," old people say, "and all is of little value."

The personal differences between some of my opponents and myself are only incidents of a fundamental difference of view. My opponents believe, as many of the founders of our government believed, that the people as a whole have neither the capacity nor the training to decide questions of broad governmental policy.

My opponents think that a special class, the legal class, is the proper one finally to determine questions of basic political philosophy; I believe that the ultimate authority rests in the people. This, of course, does not mean that the people should not employ experts to do their work for them. For instance, having selected the president, the voters should give him full executive power; but if the voters decide that they want a parcels post, they should expect him to make, with loyalty to their decision, the best parcels post that can be made; and they will not expect him to decide for them as to whether they are to have a parcels post or not. In law, having framed the constitution and the statutes, they should choose the best judge that they can to carry out the provisions of the constitution and the statutes; but if they decide that they want a workmen's compensation act, they ought to expect the judge to administer such an act, and not to determine whether a workmen's compensation act is good for them or not. It is none of the judge's business to say whether the people ought to wish and to have such an act; it is the people's business, and only theirs. If the people decide (as the Canadians have decided) that it is a true function of government to formulate and regulate the relations of organized capital and organized labor, including wages, hours, and conditions of work, they will not expect the judges—and the judges must not expect—to decide that this is not a true function of government; and if the judges endeavor to assert their view as opposed to the people's view, the people ought in legal fashion to tell them they are mistaken, and, if the judges persist, remove them and elect judges who will administer the law based upon the theory of government which the people in the exercise of their sober and deliberate judgment have decided to be good.

Fogs Bewilder Birds.

It is a curious thing that, though human beings are utterly bewildered in a dense fog, most animals find their way through it without much difficulty. A horse will trot along in its right direction as though the air were perfectly clear, and not only that, but will take the right turning at the right moment if it is at all accustomed to the road. A human being would take any turning but the right one. Birds, on the other hand, are utterly bewildered by fogs. Pigeons, for instance, will remain motionless all day long, half asleep, huddled up in their pigeon houses. Chickens and poultry of all kinds won't stir all the time a heavy fog is about. Birds of all kinds, as a matter of fact, seem helpless during foggy weather.—Pearson's.

Snow Garlands.

Curious ropes of snow that form on window ledges, tree branches, etc., at a temperature near freezing point have been brought to notice by Dr. Karl Kassner as "snow garlands." One of these ropes photographed on the building of the Meteorological Institute in Berlin was four inches in thickness and was suspended by the two ends, the distance between the points of support being three and three-quarters feet and the vertical sag about one and one-half inches. The snow on the little projection of the wall, it is supposed, was warmed by the heat of the building, when the middle slipped down and, being thus removed from the source of heat, froze again.

He Told Her.

A middle aged governess on arriving at a new situation was formally introduced to the family, and the next morning "Master Tom," the hopeful of the family, said to her, "Miss Parker, are you Leghorn or Cochon China?" "Why do you ask such an extraordinary question?" she asked.

After these samples are shown to the buyers, the wholesale houses are through with them. The next thing is to sell them. They don't care what price they bring. YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. TARIFF REFORM ON RIGHT TRACK

President Taft Has Set Aside Hap-hazard Methods.

HIS IS A PROGRESSIVE STEP

Secretary Stimson Eloquently Points Out What Nation's Chief Executive Has Done in Way of a Truly Scientific Tariff Revision.

One accomplishment of the administration of Mr. Taft has brought down upon his head vilification and abuse. That accomplishment was the one that got the Republican party and the nation on the right track in regard to tariff reform.

It was a progressive achievement. There was nothing reactionary about it. The question was asked: What has Mr. Taft done in the way of tariff reform?

Let Secretary of War Stimson answer this question. In his Chicago speech Mr. Stimson said:

"In the first place, the steady yielding of his party to the beneficiaries of the tariff has been stopped; the upward rise of tariff taxation ceased; the corner has been turned and a marked beginning made in the progress of reduction. This alone is an achievement which none of his Republican predecessors has ever accomplished."

"In the second place, under his vigorous initiative a method has been found and laid before the people which will eliminate the evils of the past and which will provide a scientific method for the future. He and his party now stand for a revision, schedule by schedule, so as to make trading between protected interests impossible. He and his party now stand for a revision to be made upon the scientific information acquired by an expert board instead of the expert statements made by the beneficiaries of the tariff. Under this system for the first time the consumer has an adequate ruling, while at the same time it rendered impossible for an ignorant or an ill-considered reduction to be made which would destroy a legitimate industry."

"It is not this a tremendous achievement in the direction of national progress—to completely rescue his party from the method and influences which, if uncontrolled, would inevitably turn it into a party of special interests and reaction? Is he not right in standing to the utmost, even to the exercise of all of the executive powers to veto, against the old privilege breeding methods of tariff revision employed by the Democratic house of representatives? Is he not right in insisting, even against popular clamor, that we shall make a clean break with the past and that no tariff revision shall take place except upon these conditions and after a scientific study by an impartial board of experts? Only in that way can the corrupting influence of tariff legislation be minimized and the Republican party kept true to its original principles."

Our Great Export Trade.

Under the administration of the nation's affairs by William Howard Taft the high mark in the record of exports of American-made goods to foreign countries was reached. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, the value of the goods exported from the United States to foreign shores reached the enormous total of over $2,000,000,000. This was a gain over the preceding twelve months of more than $300,000,000.

Grain Letter.

Chicago, March 28.—Wheat—Displayed a heavy tone in spite of good length. News was generally bearish. Receipts at terminal markets continue liberal. Weather excellent for wheat. Argentine shipments will again be heavy, estimated at 4,000,000 bushels. Foreign markets are easier. May wheat, however, appears to be tied up and will congest on breaks. Bad crop reports will be numerous in the near future and make July and September at prevailing discounts attractive.

Corn—Strong with an urgent demand from dried out shorts. Speculative buying was good, but leading local bulls sold freely to collect profits. Better weather conditions are forecasted. The seasonal strength of the St. Louis market is being reflected at Chicago. Receipts are small. Country offerings to arrive are practically nothing. The general situation still appears strong but profit taking may cause some recession. Bull traders have been exceedingly successful and can be counted on as heavy buyers on all soft spots.

Oats—Firm, but not fully reflecting the strength of corn. Speculation is centered in corn, and provisions. Speculators have not as yet fully appreciated the strong situation in oats. Room traders are antagonistic and aggressive on the bear side. A big short interest is being created. Successful corn bulls have been selling corn and buying oats. Weather and soil conditions are still unfavorable. Shorting will be late everywhere. Seed acreage will result. Harvest will be late and the crop subject to many unfavorable influences, as it will be matured during the hot weather period. Pastures will be late and the fancy price for hay and straw will make a big demand for oats. The result will be high prices. Old oats will be nearly exhausted before new are available. July delivery is almost sure to be exclusively old crop and the position is strong. September at fully 30c under the same delivery of corn appears very cheap. We consider oats a first class investment.

Where Starlings Bring Ruin.

In "Quiet Days in Spain," the author, C. B. Luffman, describes the ravages of the starlings in a hacienda devoted to raising muscatel raisins near Malaga:

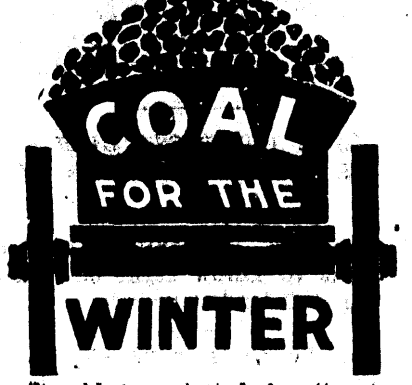

"Dogs and goats are very fond of grapes and are only kept off them by rough guards, but the greatest enemy of all is the starling. This bird flies over from Africa in such millions as literally to darken the earth. Whenever they camp for the night they leave a desert. Every particle of fruit, lent, tender shoot and piece of soft bark vanishes. As the saying is, 'Many crops spoil various fortunes; one crop of starlings spoils ruin.' The blowing of a southern wind and the sound of wings in the air produces panic, men's faces blanch with terror. In despair, bells are rung, guns fired, torches lighted, and donkeys, mules and horses are galloped up and down and round about to scare 'los chicos'—the beasts—as they are termed."

Thumb Prints.

In the Argentine Republic the identification cards of policemen, constables, cab drivers, commissionaires and servants have since 1890 borne their finger prints. Upon all passports and bank receipts for deposits the imprint of the thumb must be made at the time of delivery. In Roumania since 1903 the thumb print has been substituted for the cross made instead of signature by persons who cannot write. In the Philippine Islands those who cannot write are not obliged to be identified by witnesses at savings banks, but have to make their mark with their thumb. The same system has been used in the banks of Bengal for fifty years. In France to put an end to the fraud of embezzlement, desertion and re-enlistment for the bounty paid in the Foreign Legion, every man's finger prints are taken and kept on file.

The First Railway Gauge.

An interesting story was told by one of George Stephenson's biographers relating how the great engineer came to adopt the four foot eight and a half inch gauge for his railways. Some time previous to the building of his Newcastle and Carlisle railway Stephenson had an opportunity of inspecting some portion of an old Roman wall, through which the chariots used to be driven. Deep ruts made by the chariot wheels were still visible, and on measuring these he found their distance apart to be as near as possible four feet eight and a half inches. Stephenson thereupon came to the conclusion that if a world power like the Romans had made such use of the measure for its chariots he could not be wrong in adopting those measurements as a rule for his railway.

A coal strike, or at least a shut down at the mines for a number of weeks commencing with April 1st, now seems certain. Our advice to our customers is to take in enough coal soon to last until warmer days are certain.

THE COUNTER CHARGE OF THE WORKING CLASS.

Being a criticism of Thomas Worthington's article on "Crime in the United States." (By George Smith)

Year upon year the working class have seen this horrible drama enacted upon the industrial battlefield, until there has been engrained upon their hearts and minds and conscience an indelible realization of class distinction, based upon the conquest of property, class and expressed in the form of class government.

From a knowledge of these things they have come to realize their class interest and are rapidly concentrating their forces upon the industrial and political field, preparatory to a final settlement of the "class conflict." These things are realized by the great captains of industry, hence the great array of plans and bids of gigantic and fabulous sales, and a steady execution of justice by a class government in the control of an exploiting class, and the additional sacrifice of innocent life to create public sentiment against a just cause, and satisfy the greed of the idler.

These tragedies are also homicides, if you please, committed upon the workers by police and soldier, who possess the amazing courage to shoot defenseless and unarmed women and children in the back and who are never brought to justice, but are lauded as heroes by the Spain of Oyster Bay, the "fat man" and other patriotic statesmen, are certainly having a salutary effect upon the workers by impressing upon them a realization of their class interests, and causing an ever greater united action upon that basis.

The article says that our public school system is very defective in that it "educates the intellect, but does not educate the moral and religious instincts;" that boys "read a count of crime in dime novels," "see crime exploited on the stage and at the nickel picture show, and then unite in gangs to put into practice the lessons that they have learned;" that many of them are from good families, and would become useful citizens if they had an opportunity to learn a trade, "that it is hard work to obtain entrance into the trades," and their school training has, to a considerable degree, unfitted them for the position of mechanics of small tradesmen."

We venture to say that a decent and proper school training, never yet unfitted anyone for the position of mechanic, or artisan, and that the statement is based upon the assumption that the business and professional mind is superior to that of the worker.

From the working class the producers of useful things have come also, the pioneers of thought as expressed in the great array of inventions that have ever led in the progress of civilization to higher altitudes, after which came science, art and literature, as an expression of industrial progress and social change, and always to readjustment in accordance with the methods by which people live.

The rules of the trade union have not prevented, to any very great extent, entrance into the trades—for at no time has there been more than a 10 per cent of the wage earners of the United States in the trades unions.

A few, there may be, of boys who have been led to crime by accounts of crime in papers and dime novels, seeing it exploited on the stage, and at the nickel picture show, for society has decreed by disinheritation that they shall not have access to classic literature, the grand opera and the drama, but their means of amusement and methods of amusement shall be coarse, cheap and vulgar.

It would not cost any more to produce pictures for the nickel picture shows that would reach higher ideals and nobler sentiments and be the nucleus, the motive power of lawful aspirations. But the class that so largely directs the popular mind, by the control of press, pulp and public opinion, have in their conceit devised the continued mental slavery of the people, by cheap and vulgar forms of amusement, less they should become enlightened and cease to submit to being robbed.

The great bulk of crime, however, does not result from such causes but has its source and takes its roots at the very base of capitalist society. Enslaved, civilized, christianized, enlightened, has decreed that "the desire for things shall be the dominant factor of life" and have established and legalized forms whereby the workers are relieved of the things which they produce and as a consequence they and their children are disinherited, forced to beg an idle class for the right to labor and to live.

It often happens that they produce too much surplus value, that is produce in excess of what their labor will bring, that the wheels of industry are stifled as the result of congested markets, and the workers who have produced too much are "left aside."

The hunger of the increased million in the army of the unemployed, causes them to underbid each other in the labor market, thus establishing a lower standard of living by, and in proportion to a decreased wage.

The perfect working simplified machine, makes it easy of operation and the man being unable to find employment, is forced to see his wife taken from the home, and his children from the school room and the playground to become producers of profit; for the master class that they may obtain a pittance upon which to maintain a bare existence. Priest and preaching, have for centuries told of the tragic life of the "man of sorrow, recounting the pathetic lines in the life of Lazarus and exploited the character of Magdalene, and today the disinherited children of the working class (in defense of whom scarcely one of them dare lift their voice in an effective way) are being crucified to satiate the greed of the God of Gold, the child Lazarus, has been crucified by the millitars and Magdalene, even as a child has been compelled to sell herself in the marks of the scarlet sign (see Creed in National Rip Saw, St. Louis, Mo., March No.).

The 1900 census vol. on occupation gives the percentage of child workers to total child population in twenty states, and it ranges from 22.4 to 59 for male and 4.4 to 38.3 for female. Andrew S. Draper, state commissioner of education of New York, printed in the New York Times of Nov. 27, 1908, giving the following registration of elementary pupils, of both sexes, in the cities and villages of New York for the school year of 1907 and 1908:

Grade	Avg. yrs. of age	No. of pupils	Pct.
First	6.58	129,000	96.7
Second	7.38	133,447	100.0
Third	8.18	130,106	97.7
Fourth	8.97	126,962	95.1
Fifth	9.77	119,025	89.1
Sixth	10.57	102,836	77.0
Seventh	11.37	83,729	62.7
Eighth	12.17	65,062	48.7

Mr. Draper's annual report for 1908:

Age	No. of pupils
Under 10 years	142,105
10 to 14 years	158,778
15 to 19 years	221,312
20 to 24 years	268,427
25 to 29 years	406,701
30 to 34 years	552,851

Total, 1,750,178

These are government statistics of twelve years ago, since then the employment of child labor has increased greatly and is said to exceed two million five hundred thousand at the present time.

Capitalist civilization has robbed the man of his heritage, of the natural right to labor and to live and has reduced them to the condition of beggars for those things which should be theirs by rights, it has taken the women from the home and placed her in the factory, to exploit her labor and her womanhood.

It has robbed the school room and the play ground, to grind the joys of childhood into a purse of gold.

The awful tragedies, of history ever which so many millions of years are shed are as nothing compared to the crime that is practiced upon the children of the poor who are compelled to sell themselves in the labor markets of modern industry.

It is left to these children to express the brutal effects of industrial robbery in terms of pain and sorrow, in aching hearts that cry out in vain protest against the aching void of a childless childhood.

The sum total of civilization countless crimes are compassed by the misery of the child slave, in the destruction of physical beauty and beauty of the mind, the destruction of noble incentives and progressive ideals.

The fatherless, the motherless, and the unemployed, the alien herds who infest the crowded tenements, and help to make the great heterogeneous population of civilizations congested centers; who live in dilapidated shacks and kennels that front the alley way, vermine lined, disease infected holes, where vice and crime and misery walk hand in hand with the disinherited. Are an evidence of a high time of societies boasted civilization.

Almost all these children, slaves of the mines, mills and factories; the tots who toil in sweat shops, beside the aged and infirm, broken reeds of commerce, human derelicts of industry are born to slavery, even and as surely as the sparks fly upward.

They are but the spawn of industrial progress cast forth in the misery of toil.

Born of an underfed, overworked, vitiated ancestry, poisoned by civilization's adulteration, they inhale by their first breath of life the poisonous fumes and gases and the infectious germs of the east-off.

Their food consists of the garbage of the more fortunate, the refuse of the metropolitan market, and the products cheapened by coarseness and semi-decay.

Their playground is the street and the alley, the subway and the abandoned lot, where cess pools and refuse piles cast forth contagion and even the sunlight is obscured by smoke from the master's mill.

For them there is no well kept lawn, shrub lined, flower scented where the joyous laughter of care free children, mingled with the plaintive note of the song bird.

There is no fountain, tenement-way, to cast its spray upon the noxious weeds of abandoned marts. No beautiful parks and playgrounds, no libraries to feed the starving mind, no centers of art to make glad the child of toil, no museum to freshen the mind of childhood, no capitalist civilization could not exploit for children if they had access to things made beautiful by nature to gladden the heart and mind.

The manner in which society neglects, except to prosecute, rob and enslave them tends to produce crime of almost every kind.

Excessive labor at a tender age, deprives the vitality, corrodes the mind, and robs the will of the power of independent action. They are forced to mingle with the social scum, the refuse of the industrial nadir, every force conspired to lead the boys to crime and the girls are most always forced at some time of their existence to sell themselves to the passerbys as the only alternative to destruction, by starvation.

And if perchance they are lucky enough to have retained form of beauty, and charm of manner, they may become popular fairies in some palace of gilded sin, and as consorts, with patrons of the scarlet sign, rub silken elbows with the daughters of Babylon. What are the causes of the contests? These social, industrial and political conflicts which keep society in a continuous turmoil.

Certainly it is no some surface phase, such as the lack of more or religious training or instinct. It is not because tariffs are high or low, revenues low or high or because good or bad men are in or out of office. It is because men, women and children would rather starve in idleness than to be useful laborers. It is not because that men and women would rather take their children from the school and playground and put them to labor in the various industries than to work themselves.

There is one, and only one great and all powerful cause, it is inherent in and inseparable from the capitalist system and is the private ownership of the means of life; the ownership by a few people of the tools which the workers must use to live, to use which they must have the consent of the owners.

To gain access to the tools of industry they must pay tribute to the owner. This tribute, this profit, this method of modern business extorts 80 per cent (see U. S. report of labor com.) of the product of labor in payment for the privilege to labor and to live. The great inequality of opportunity that is continually becoming greater, as the result of the prestige given the owning class by the continuous increase of their economic power and the fierce struggle of the workers; is enhanced by the growing proportion of the army of the unemployed.

Economic inequality is the basis upon which rests all of the conflicts of the present day and they will continue to become more fierce in proportion as the methods of production and distribution become better organized.

As there is but one cause, one basic root from which these things come, there is likewise one remedy one means by which class conflict can be made a thing of history.

And that is the social ownership and democratic management of the tools which society must use to live. The methods by which people live are an index to their social progress and the forces of labor by the adoption of newer methods of production, have ever been the pioneers of social and industrial progress.

All other things have simply come as an expression of such progress. And so it is that labor claims to have contributed to society every useful thing of which they have been exploited by an idle class.

They claim that the logic of history, the laws of evolution, of biological, social and economic science proclaimed the necessity for the social ownership of the means of life, and that it is the next step in the progress of the race and is the inevitable outcome of the present system.

This solution has been arrived at by the progressive portion of the working class and they pursue its furtherance with tireless energy, gaining power and prestige as steadily and as surely as the dawn of each new day, carrying friendship and hope to those who have been robbed and brutalized to satisfy the greed of an idle class.

Socialism brightens the vision of the worker, as the darkness of the night is brightened by the dawn to greet the rising sun.

Contemplation of its possibilities, lightens the burden which they bear with logical hopes of a chance to live decent, clean and useful lives.

With them, it is a religion, crowned by the exultation of countless thousands of their class.

Respectfully submitted by George Smith at the request of local Socialists.

Not It's Right Kind.

A young teacher who was teased by a sewing machine agent told the latter that his machine would not answer his purpose.

"What's the trouble, old man? You look worried."

"I am. My son wants to start a chicken farm."

"Oh, well, try to throw it off! He might be wanting to buy or sell stuff on margins."—Chicago Record Herald.

NERVOUS WOMAN.

Lost Sleep and Appetite—Is Now Well and Strong.

If men only understood better how fearfully a woman's strength is taxed by her monotonous round of household duties, they would not be surprised at an occasional spell of "nerves."

When a woman is strong and well she does not know what it is to be nervous—it is only when she is weak that her nerves go to pieces.

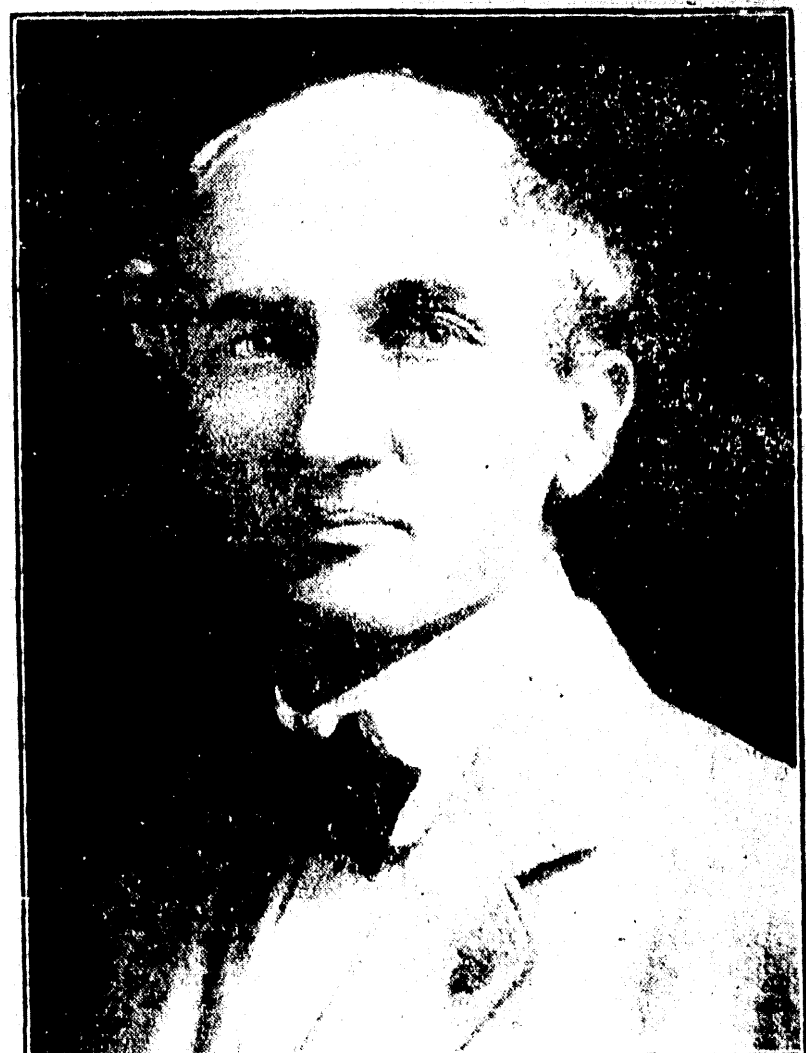

Mrs. M. A. Robinson, of West Grove, Pa., says: "I had a nervous trouble for some months, affecting both my appetite and sleep. Soon after I began to take Vinol I felt ever so much better and now I am as well as ever. Vinol did me a lot of good."

Our advice to all nervous, run down women is—take Vinol and regain your strength then you will have no more nervous spells. This delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil always agrees with the stomach, and it has made thousands of weak discouraged, sickly women well and vigorous. We guarantee it—money back if Vinol does not please you. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT.

Says: "Mrs. Mason's treatment of the head is most scientific. It keeps the hair in perfect health and increases its growth." This is largely due to Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream, now obtainable at Lee P. Alcott's druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

William J. Butler

Candidate for the Republican Nomination for the Legislature in the 45 Senatorial District

REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF SANGAMON AND MORGAN COUNTIES:

In soliciting your vote on an explicit platform, some planks of which you may differ with, I would suggest that in the end you can better afford to support a candidate who has a clear defined platform, though differing with him in part, than you can support a candidate who straddles, and, while appearing to agree with you, is at the same time agreeing with those who hold opposite views.

A straddle is usually the first symptom of a grafter, and a nonentity, and a nonentity stands for nothing, and nothing accomplishes nothing. In taking a stand on some and announcing my willingness to take a stand on all important questions, I am not unmindful that the past disclosure that often the most successful candidate for nomination and election is the candidate that on the quiet can deceive the largest number of opposing interests, and make the most promises to the greatest number of people.

In this connection, allow me to remind you that popularity obtained by the straddling type of candidate before election is usually the measure of his unpopularity after election. And, he who stood on the quiet with everybody before election, usually stands on the quiet for himself only, after election.

I believe it is better to have a position which you are willing to change when wrong, than to be stopped forever from being right, because of being afraid of being wrong, and not having the courage to change.

MY PLATFORM IS:

FIRST. I am against any state appropriations for deep waterway until its success is assured by national aid.

I believe the $20,000,000 authorized by the people for a deep waterway would render ten times the benefit expended in a net work of hard roads all over the state, but am opposed to any action until the matter is again submitted to the people.

SECOND. I am for the principle of local option, and firmly believe that each locality should have control of the conditions that exist in that locality.

THIRD. I am against county option for the very reason that I am for local option. For county option is not local option, but means that one locality shall control another, and, that, instead of each locality controlling its own affairs, it means that the affairs of one locality shall be controlled by a locality to which it is a stranger.

FOURTH. I am for "partisan efficiency service," and against inefficient civil service. I am for an ever rising standard of efficiency, and believe the life of progress is the infusion of new blood and rotation, and not the exclusion of new blood and stagnation.

Any system that creates a class, holding office for life, must, in time, result in inefficiency through dry rot. To civil service as it now exists, must follow in a few years a pensionification—for, if you are to retain people in office until they are helpless, you are obligated to support them until they are dead. Besides this, you create an office holding aristocracy, arrogant through protection, and out of touch by exclusion from the people they serve.

I believe rotation in office, in the long run, is the best education of the people. 1st. Because it more frequently fixes the attention of the people on what is going on, and who is filling the office. 2d. Because it familiarizes the people with the various services necessary to run the government. I would strongly uphold civil service within the parties requiring an appointment to prove by proper tests his efficiency in performing his duties. But I am against taking from the head of any department who is responsible for the duties of his office the appointive, or more properly, the nominating power of who shall serve under him. It would be strange to arrange to recall judges and make all appointive offices for life.

FIFTH. I am for that part of the present primary law that protects from fraud an expression of the will of the people by ballot. But I am against the plurality feature of the present primary law.

I am against it because it substitutes minority rule for the will of the majority. I am against it because it destroys party government, and substitutes bi-partisan government. I am against it because it destroys party discipline.

You cannot condemn the old primary methods for what was produced under them, unless you condemn the present primary for what it produces. And, by destroying party discipline, it has, and will again, produce men like White, Holtshaw, Beckmeyer and Link.

Under the present law you cannot get a party caucus; under the old system, you could not break one.

I am against it because it is based on the principle that the people are not to be trusted to meet together.

I am against it because the proposition that there is no one to be trusted except the majority, is equivalent to the assertion that there are no honest people.

I am against it because it is drawn to take advantage of the difficulty of the majority expressing itself quickly when widely separated, geographically, and of substituting the rule of an organized minority for the rule of the majority.

I am against it because it is a concealed plot to substitute newspaper government for government by parties.

I am for a primary law that not only protects the ballot, but also protects majority rule and party government.

SIXTH. I believe in a corrupt practice act, that will protect the able and honest candidate against the unscrupulous and rich candidate. The present primary has made one necessary.

A law that will measure popularity for office by fitness, and not by wealth. A law that nominates by votes, and not by dollars.

A law making a penalty for executives seeking to hold office by traffic in patronage, and for wealthy individuals who buy votes through others, the same as those who exchange the dollar for the vote.

SEVENTH. I am unalterably for the rule of the majority and will support for United States Senator who ever gets the majority vote.

I have been so unjustly abused and misrepresented by the "patron press" in the past that I feel I should voice a warning against criticism born in greed, created without foundation, and manufactured for sale as a teller of the truth, a pro-

And I ask you, in judging newspaper abuse in the present, to keep in mind the past, and to remember that those papers which have praised my opponent highest and abused me most, have in each case where my opponent was elected, before he went out of office, recalled their praise and transferred their abuse to him, thus utterly discrediting themselves as a teller of the truth, a prophet of the future, or a judge of candidates. I was a member of the Lee-Shawnee and materially helped in securing the first appropriation of $25,000 which permanently anchored the State Fair in Sangamon County.

I have served in the legislature and in several appointive public offices regarding honesty and ability, and have made good.

R. S. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe laryngeal cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. It can't be beat."

"Yes, we do," replied the barman. "Well, here's one free the futbol match. You might keep him till he comes to himself."—Farm and Home (England).

Deploable Result.
A public house in a Yorkshire district displays in one of its windows this notice: "Football Results Received Here." Into this haven one evening a man entered, supporting a young man whose figure testified to the fact that he had been engaged in some violent encounter.

"Ye receive futbol results here, I see," said the former.

"Yes, we do," replied the barman. "Well, here's one free the futbol match. You might keep him till he comes to himself."—Farm and Home (England).

WATER SALE

Starts
Saturday
March 30

The sensation of the season, with a stream of bargains. Thousands of dollars worth of new spring Clothing, Shoes, Ladies' Coats, etc., slightly damaged by water, to be distributed into the homes of the people of Jacksonville and vicinity at less than cost of raw material

SATURDAY, MARCH 30 AT 9 A.M.

By the Illinois Stock Exchange, Jacksonville, Illinois

There is no doubt by this time that everybody in and around here knows that we met with a serious accident last week through the leakage of our roof, thereby causing an overflow of water and slightly damaging thousands of dollars worth of merchandise. This is one time we didn't know enough to keep out of the wet. However, accidents will happen to the best of us and we are willing to suffer the consequences. Our loss is your gain. We could easily dispose of the merchandise in a regular way without any loss to us, but it's not our way of doing business. We believed four years ago, when the doors of this store opened, that the one safe way of to clinch, bind and rivet everlasting success was to at all times tell the truth and guarantee the biggest values for the money and this spirit has been fostered and strengthened every year, every month, every week, every business day of our existence.

Mens' Suits at Great Savings

A lucky purchase from one of the leading clothing manufacturers in the east brings us 335 new snappy spring suits for men and young men that we bought at 40c on the dollar are now here to be disposed of at less than first cost. They are the blue serge suits all other stores ask $17.00 for. Come Saturday if you want one of these all wool true blue serge suits for $10.10

If you are looking for your Easter suit, of something out of the ordinary, then come to the Illinois Stock Exchange Water Sale Saturday and we will show you suits for men and young men that are strictly hand tailored, in all the worsted shades and the newest spring styles, that all other stores are showing at $22.50 and $25.00; they are the same suits, made of the same materials, tailored by the same manufacturer and for $14.95

It is exactly on these lines that this Water Sale will be conducted. Our sole object is to dispose of all goods that were damaged, regardless of former prices. Come Saturday, March 30, at 9 a. m. and share in the most atrocious butchery of price cutting ever attempted in the merchandising world. Read carefully every item.
